FIND GOOD ORE NEAR HERE

STRIKE MADE IN THE OLD MUD-DOON GROUND IN KINGS CANYON—BIG BODY REPORTED.

A strike is reported at the old Mud-doan ground in Kings canyon.

Samplings were brought into the city yesterday by J. V. Lickederer who has been prospecting the old claim for some time, and he exhibited an assay certificate that gave average values of $15 a ton.

He stated that the samplings assayed were taken across the face of a twelve foot ledge and that it has opened up far enough to show a large body of ore in sight, ready to take down and mill.

More or less intelligent prospecting has been done in this ground for years, but it remained for the present discoverers to make the find. Persons have always believed that there was a body of ore in the old claim, but were unable to find it. It is probable that Lickederer has repeated the experience of the Commonwealth company, and has found the body of ore at small expense that others spent fortunes to uncover.

Ore of the value of $15 in such quantities as Lickederer reports, can be worked at a great profit, and if the find is genuine, Carson City has a bonanza at her back door, for it is less than five miles to the claim.

THE NEWS APOLOGIZES

Our esteemed contemporary said this morning that he was compelled to borrow "the Appeal machine" in order to get out the semblance of a newspaper.

Every way to apologize. Lest the machine form had impressions let it be known that all well regulated linotypes refuse to set up a steady line of vapors for long at a time, which fact makes it necessary to borrow one for a while. Linotypes were made to set news as well as views, and a long run of "views" is bad for their digestion. Fewer "views" and more news will remedy the trouble of the News machine. It took an hour to make the Appeal machine get down to business this morning.

DON'T WORRY WATCH US GROW

Did you notice that the Appeal had the news of the strike settlement at Tonopah the day it happened, in fact three hours after it happened?

You must read the Appeal for the news that is worth printing. The Appeal also was the first to send out an account of the discoveries at Ramsey, and at Lone Pine and it was due to The Appeal that Carson City has an inside track on the trade of Ramsey, thanks to the auto line.

Don't worry, watch us grow.

Joe Johnson, formerly a druggist of this city, arrived today for a short stay from California.

The auto stage made the trip out to Ramsey in one hour and fifty minutes and came back in two hours, with two passengers each way today.

A witness in the Harje divorce case in Pittsburg testified that forty letters relative to the case were stolen. They were written by Mrs. Hartje to her negro coachman.

Miss Ambrosotti, who has been teaching school in White Pine county, returned to Carson City this afternoon to spend her vacation.

Miss Nellie Crowe and sister of Brunswick are spending the day in this city.

Harry Warr of Meyers station is at the Briggs.

WON MO KID TO CUM IN

Chop Sney Luy, Won Gon Hing, Son Ching Mew, Wo rop Hi, Hip Soy Tee, Git Up Jake, Cum Too Sing tonight, and don't you forget it.

Rehearsals for the Chink play to be given by the Leisure club Friday night are going on nightly, but a lot of to be chinks think they are very smart and on't have to rehearse more than a dozen times.

All the rest of the singers and Chinks for a Night have rehearsed faithfully and well, and the net result is the prettiest play ever put on in Carson City by amateurs. In fact few regular professional shows have been any better than this will be for both music and spectacular effects.

Thirty people on the stage of the Carson City opera house at a time is a good many, and if you can't believe it, just get a ticket at Steinmetz' and go and see.

If you recognize any of your folks in the baggy pants and the funny head dresses, you are at liberty to send bouquets, but vegetables are barred.

This is a high class show and we are all interested in it for the proceeds go to build a new house for Carson City. Get busy; buy tickets, and get some other person to do so. The play itself is worth twice the money.

MRS. W. E. COREY IS FREE WITH $1,000,000

RENO, July 31.—Nervous, broken in health and heart, Mrs. Laura P. Corey, is free from matrimonial obligations to her husband. She is also granted the custody of her only child, Allan. No alimony was asked of the millionaire steel manufacturer; the entire case rested on the accusation of desertion, and it was proven. Three hours elapsed between the time the divorce case was called in the district court and the announcement of the jury that the decision was in favor of the plaintiff.

That Corey left his wife in her apartments in New York with the avowed intention of never returning to her, was the concise testimony of the plaintiff; that the husband has shown incapability of being a proper custodian of the only son was shown by the testimony of his sister. These facts determined the outcome of the case. They were not disputed by the counsel for the defense. Indeed, the attorneys for W. E. Corey introduced no dispute to the application for separation. Evidently Corey wanted the matter settled quickly and with no opposition from him. It is said that he gives his wife $1,000,000.

EXONERATE DR. GIBSON

The board of asylum commissioners met yesterday at the asylum and investigated the affairs of that institution under the management of Dr. Gibson, and decided that as much care as possible under the circumstances is being exercised at the institution to prevent the escape of inmates and makes comparisons between the present and the past administrations. These show that the number of escapes during the last two years is not in excess of those of other years.

TWO BAD ACCIDENTS

An employee of Emil Petersen, named Charlie, suffered a dislocation of his left shoulder last night and is bound up in bandages as a result. He fell and in attempting to catch himself threw the joint out of place.

Another man, whose name could not be learned, suffered the same misfortune in another part of the city. Both men were dressed by the doctor.

Ed. Yerington has a gang of painters at work on his house.

COPPER GOES 19 PER CENT

WHAT THE LONE PINE COMPANY HAS FOUND IN THE CROW MINE ACROSS THE RIVER.

The Lone Pine Copper company received its assay certificate this morning for samples taken Sunday at the Crow mine, owned by the company.

Sample No. 1, selected across 15 feet of ledge—gold, trace; silver, .013 ounces; copper, .965 per cent—$70.14. Sample No. 2, average across same ground—gold, trace; silver, 1.20 oz.; copper, 1.55 per cent—$45.96.

Sample No. 3, waste dump, average—gold, none; silver, none; copper, 1.15 per cent—$1.14.

The average copper value therefore, including waste, is 1.16 per cent, or $40.28 a ton.

Copper ore carrying 8 per cent copper can be worked, and is being worked in most of the big copper camps of the world at a big profit. With over 3 per cent to spare, the Lone Pine people have profitable ore to mine. Such however is the extent of the ledge that they can be taken down with a steam shovel.

The company intends to push the drift until it reaches the wash or shows that the whole hill is a vast conglomerate of copper ore that will pay to work. If the ledge holds out at its present value, the Lone Pine company can furnish a 100 ton smelter from the shafts and drifts, and there are millions of tons of the stuff in the hill that can be quarried out for a smelter of any capacity.

It would take fifty years to take it down with ordinary mining operations.

J. M. DAVIS IS DEAD

J. Marshall Davis, manager of the Virginia Chronicle is dead in San Francisco.

He went below a few weeks ago for an operation on the skull and his death, while a matter of expectancy, is a shock to all his friends.

His wife and brother-in-law were with him when he died and will accompany the body to this State for burial.

J. Marshall Davis was one of the best loved men that ever lived in this state. He was a Native Son of the Golden West, 48 years of age and a public spirited man in every respect. He had other interests than the Chronicle and his loss will be deeply felt in Storey county, no less than elsewhere.

The body will arrive Wednesday and will probably be buried by the Masonic fraternity, of which he was a member. He was affiliated with the Odd Fellows and the Workmen, and hosts of friends over the state testify to his good fellowship.

The funeral arrangements are yet to be made.

GREEKS FIGHT FREE FOR ALL

ONE MAN NEARLY BEATEN TO DEATH BY HIS FELLOWS AND A LOT OF THEM QUIT WORK.

A Greek at the railroad camp was set upon by several of his mates last night and was almost beaten to death. Several of the assailants were badly bruised and scratched in a free for all fight that lasted half an hour.

According to one story, the victim stuck a pin into another Greek, a short time ago in play. The man he stuck resembled it, and a fight was averted at that time.

Last night, the victim sought to quit and wanted his time, and a row with the foreman developed into a fight in which the victim and the foreman were having a lovely time, when half a dozen others jumped in and made out the victim.

He ran as fast as possible and got some distance away from the camp before he fell with a dozen lacerations and some fearful bruises, from knives and billets of cord wood.

He was carried back to camp and a doctor was sent for, who began his spine on a board and sewed up his lacerations.

Investigation of the affair developed many stories, and all different. The man still lives and will recover, but he will not work in this gang any more. A dozen or more Greeks will quit as a result of the fight and they amused themselves by walking about the city this morning.

This is the first trouble the Greeks have had since they were brought here. No arrests were made.

(On account of their lack of knowledge of English, each man is numbered and it is impossible to identify one without his metal tag. Hence the lack of names in this article.—Ed.)

BROUGHER'S BIG IMPROVEMENT

Senator Brougher has caused the old stairway that led up to the second story of the Arlington hotel, on Spear street, torn down, and is laying a cement side walk along the Spear street front of the building.

The removal of the old wooden eye sore is a distinctive advance toward the general improvement of the city, and the appearance of its business houses. The new side walk is an improvement that is more than appreciated by every citizen in the place, and the thanks of the community are due to Brougher for going ahead with it. Don't worry, watch us grow.
